SPORTS PACKS—

Sports packs have been developed with the enthusiast in mind. Already boasting an outstanding chassis as its foundation, the sports pack sees further key components tuned to deliver an even more agile and focused driving experience.

A process-driven, comprehensive approach has been taken in re-engineering such components, to ensure that all modifications made not only complement each other but also increase the precision of the overall driving experience.

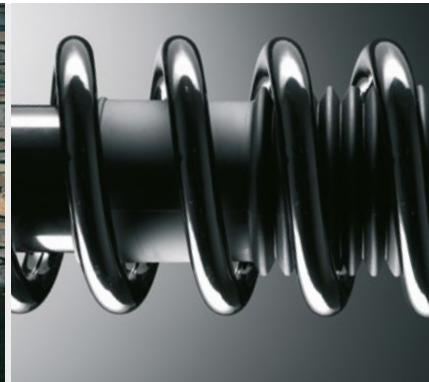

For example the combination of uprated springs and Bilstein aluminium dampers — with their improved dynamic response — works in perfect harmony with new lightweight, five-spoke alloy wheels, all resulting in an exceptionally responsive suspension.

Overall the pack helps reduce body roll and improve control especially at high speeds, while also offering unrivalled agility in all aspects of handling.

The silencer is an all new lighter design having a new external shape profiled to support undercar airflow. Aston Martin engineers have developed a new engine calibration that has optimised valve opening points to maximise sound quality and yet at low load and cruising speed the valves close to minimise unwanted noise. The exhaust valves also stay open on the over-run to give a distinctive and different sports characteristic. To signify the fitment of the Sports Exhaust system a pair of new dark smoked stainless steel Graphit-IC tailpipes are supplied.
